

Art is about changing the way that we see our world or places.

It's about magic, it's about transformation.

It's about a spark of recognition or wonder.

It is simply adding a bit of joy to the world.

My art is all about color, whimsy & joy that can change the way you feel when you walk into your spaces.

I make Bird Prayer Flags, kitchen towels, little bird notes, gift tags & notepads. (Cards & pillows coming mid summer.)

With one glance at my products, it's no doubt I value the natural world with the whimsy, color, and fun that I express in my artwork but I also value how my products make someone feel whether they pick it up for themselves as a unique something and special reminder of their adventures or as that perfect gift for a loved one.

Beyond the original artwork, I keep price point, giftability, ease of display, and ability to be packed away nicely in a travel bag in mind when I design.

For these reasons I see my products being perfect for your customers.

The prayer flags of Nepal carry messages of hope, peace, connection & a reverence for the natural world. They are Messengers of Joy & Goodwill.

They do not carry prayers to the gods, rather their prayers and mantras will be blown by the wind, spreading goodwill & compassion to all.

While in Nepal I hung many, many flags for my dying friend back home.

I spun many a prayer wheel asking for her safe passage.

Flags that were given to me by her myriad of friends came with specific instructions:

Fly them high in the mountains for there Martha will find peace.

BlueBirds of Happiness

Everywhere in Nepal whether in Kathmandu or up high in the villages, prayer flags color the skyline, drape the bridges, hang in doorways. They captured my complete attention.

I needed to create my own flags to voice my hopes, connections & reverence.

A wing and a prayer philosophy sent me flying into making these 'Messengers of Joy and Goodwill'.

They represent three things: my deep connection to nature, my curiosity about birds & my hopes for a sustainable world.
